THE LAST PENNY OF DEBT IS PAID

WEST MARKET CHURCH CLEAR

THE LAST DOLLAR OF DEBT GUARANTEED YESTERDAY.

The Various Committees Had Raised All But About $900 of the $4,000 Unpaid, and this Was Quickly Raised Yesterday.

In a voice expressive of both triumph and thankfulness, Dr. S. B. Turentine was yesterday able to announce to the large audience assembled to witness the happy occasion, that the source of the great anxiety under which the West Market church had been laboring for eight years, was at last removed—the debt was lifted.

This was the result of the effort begun some weeks ago to raise, before Easter, the remaining $4,000due on the building. The service of yesterday morning was designed to be the last act in the long effort to pay for the magnificent structure in which the congregation now worships. And it was. The various committees and working bands reported what they had succeeded in securing, when it was found that the amount was still short $900. This was secured from the congregation. But before this was done, Dr. Turrnetine called upon the chairman of the building committe, Mr. J. A. Odell, who read the following paper:

HICTORY OF THE BUILDING.

"As chairman of the building committee it was deemed proper at this time that I should state some facts connected with the building of Methodist church in Greensboro, and especcially the building of this present house, which we hope to dedicate on next Sunday to the worship of Almighty God.

"The first Mehtodist church in Greensboro was built in 1830, and located on South Elm street. Rev. Peter Doub was pastor. The beautiful windonw you see on the north side of this church was placed there as a memorial of this old pionerr hero of Methodism in North Carolina.

"In the year 1850-51 a new site for the church was chosen on West Market street. This was the beginning of West Market Street station. In 1882 this house was enlarged and improved. In 1892 the lot on which this church now stands was purchased from the heirs of the late W. P. Caldwell. On April 17th, 1893 the quarterly conference appointed as a building committee Messrs. S. L. Alderman, Dr. H. M. Alford, G. W. Alley, W. G. Balsley, Sam Brown, H. W. Cobb, C, H, Dorsett, C. M. Hackett, C, H, Ireland, B. H. Merrimon, J. A. Odell, T. M. Pickard, O. F. Pearce, H. L. Scott, S. L. Trogden, J. M. Winstead, Dr. J. W. Whitsett.

"The first meeting of the building committee was held on April 19, 1893. The committee was organized by the election of the following officers: J. A. Odell, chairman; C. H. Ireland, secretary; J. M. Winstead, treasurer. The committe at once advertised for plans. Several architects submitted designs, and after careful consideration the committee selected the plans submitted by S. W. Foulk, of New Castle, Pa. The committee employed Messrs. J. M. Wolfe and J. L. Winningham to superintend the work.

"Ground was broken June 26, 1893. The first brick was laid July 5th. So you see we have taken as much time as Solomon took to build the Temple at Jerusalem.

"The brick was furnished by D. N. Kirkpatrich, Greensboro Brick & Tiling Co., and the A. & M. College, of this city; the stone by the Mt. Airy Granite Co.; the lumber by J. C. D. McNatt; the slate roofing by John H. Williams & Co., of Richmond; the inside wood work by the Cape Fear Mfg. Co., of this city; the pews by the Grand Rapids School Furniture Co., Grand Rapids, Mich.; the windows by Rudy Bros., of Pittsburg, Pa.; the painting was done by Mr. Crumpler of Winston; the furnaces were furnished by Peck, Smead & Co., of Cincinnati; the hardware and plumbing by the Odell Hardware Co.; the carpets by Johnson & Dorsett; the bell was moved from the old church. It was made by Henry McShane of Baltimore, Md.

"These are the principal items of expense, and the total cost, including the lot, is about $45,000.

"Rev. S. H. Hilliard was pastor of West Market church when this building was commenced. He was followed by Drs. Weaver, Rowe, and Turrentine. The Presiding Elders of the district were Dr. Weaver, Brooks, Wood and Rev. J. R. Scroggs.

"On yesterday I was looking over the proceeding of some of the meetings of the building committee, and it made me quite nervous. The financial problem came up at every meeting, and I think the committee finally dissolved, as I see no account of their ever meetting after June 1894. The board of steward have been tussling wit it since that time, and if it had not been for the good women of church, you would not have any board of stewards now I do not say it to flatter the women, but I say it in all earnetnes, as a matter of fact, that they have done a great work in raising funds and encouraging the committee and board of stewards, and but for them we should have fainted and fallen by the wayside long ago. The committee wish to thank every member of this church for the hearty support and encouragement. It has been one united effort all the time. We wish also to thank many friends, not members of this church, for their co-operation and finanical aid.

"May the Lord bless them all, and may he accept this offering at our hands, and may his people be abundantly satisfied with the fatness of His house."

TREASURER'S REPORT.

Following this Mr. C. H. Ireland read the report of the treasurer, Miss Mary E. Trotter. Before presenting the statement he took occasion to thank the members and others who had so nobly stood by the enterprise. The treasurer's report is:

Amount collected and expended through J. M. Winstead and E. L. Sides, treasurers, prior to June1, 1895,	$13,329.41
Amount collected for windows,	1,506.40
Amount collected for seats,	2,257.17
Amount collected for heaters,	1,300.00
Amount collected on steps,	500.00
Amount collected on Chandelier,	450.00
Amount collected for carpets, pulpit and other furniture,	1,550.00
Amount collected for all other building purposes,	16,365.17
Total,	$37,820.00
Amount still due on notes, interest, and open account,	$3,962.26
Total cost of church, not including lot,	$41,802.31

From this it will be seen that, in round numbers, $4,000 were yet due. On this the following cash and negotiable paper was reported:

Amount secured by board of stewards from old and new subscriptions,	$1,500.69
Ladies' Aid Society,	655 00
SUNDAY SCHOOL.
Infant department.	$ 100.00
Mrs. W. F. Alderman's class,	6.74
S. L. Alderman's class,	10.65
Miss May Alderman's class,	11 55
Miss Eugenia Bumpass' class,	4.00
Miss Lucy Coffin's class,	11.67
W. P. Hutton's class,	7.00
Miss May Pittman's class,	11.42
Mrs. E. L. Sides class,	5.49
Miss Nannie Lee Smith's class,	75.00
Mrs. C. H. Dorsett's class,	1.34
J. A. Odell's class,	50 00
West End band,	6.50
Mr. Ireland's class,	15.05
Miss Nettie Allen's class,	3.00
Miss Viola Boddie's class,	14.61
Miss Albright's class,	5.40
EPWORTH LEAGUE.
Mrs. Scarboro's band,	55.75
Miss Quate's band,	130.00
Miss Andrew's band,	51.00
Mrs. Carr's band,	128.00
Total,	2,871.00

After these amounts had been checked off, Dr. Turrentine called for subscriptions for the remaining $900.00, which it was stated was yet needed, He at first called for subscriptions of $100, then $50, then $25 $10 and $5. The full amount was soon raised, except something over $100 which Dr. Peacock arose and said he would be responsible for. As soon as the amounts are handed in this week, and before Satuday night, not a cent will be due on the church, and the dedicatory service will be carried out tnext Sunday with much rejoicing.

A Pleasing Occasion.

One of the most pleasing incidents connected with the meeting of the Christian Endeavor Convention in this city, was the visit yesterday afternoon of a band of eleven junior Endeavorers, delegates from Burlington and Elon, to the county home of Guilford. The young delegates, some of them mere tots, were in charge of Miss Daughtry of Burlington, and Miss Davis, of Elon. They held a service at the county home for the old people there. No one but the little people took part, and inmates of the home were made very happy by their visit.

Who Got the Wine?

It is said that Mr. Garrett, who figured in the capture of the gold brick men, and who is a wine manufacturer, has sent two casks of wine to Greensboro for the officers and friends who were associated with him in the recent exploit. But some of the folks are quite doubtful of the correctness of this, as they say they haven't seen the wine. Who got that wine, anyhow?

Federal Court.

Judge Boyd's court opened up today in full swing. The most conspicuous thing in the whole business is the under foot condition in the court room. Not only has the Judge had the room cleaned up nicely, but the floors have been covered with cheap carpeting, and altogether the old court room looks nicer than it has in years.

Death of Mr. Lindsay Stewart.

Correspondence of The Telegram.

Guilford College, April 1.—The community was saddened by the death of Mr. Lindsay Stewart, of this place, at 1 o'clock this morning. Mr. Stewart was a prominent member of this section, and leaves many sorrowing friends. He had been ill only about ten days, and though his case was known to be serious, the community was not prepared for what happened. Mr. Stewart purchased property and moved with his family to this place about three years ago in order to place his children in college.

Pneumonia was the cause of his death. The funeral will take place at Alamance tomorrow.

WHAT THE BIG CITY IS THINKING OF

THE PREVALENCE OF GAMBLING

FOUND TO EYIST TO A GREAT EXTENT IN FASHIONABLE LIFE.

But No Policeman Would Dare Enter a House Where it Goes on, All of Which Makes the People Who Love a Wide Open Town, Laugh.

New York, March 30.—New York has been agitated in its upper cicles during the past two weeks over reports that big gambling is done by women of fashion of the 400. Faith in the story comes of the fact that the charge was first made by Rev. Dr. Huntington, pastor of Grace Episcopal church, whose membership is made up chiefly of the cream of New York fashionables.

Of course nothing has been done about it. No policeman would dare to enter the house of a prominent citizen of pronounced good character with a view to suppressing supposed gambling. Those who favor a "wide open town' chuckle over the scandal and wink when open gambling is condemned. It is believed by many that this counter charge made by the Episcopal clergyman will be a damper to zeal in the reform movement which had its origin in the Episcopal prelate, Bishop Potter.

What worries New York most is, not that gambling houses should be found to exist, for everyone except the police has known for a long time that their name in the city is legion. But that many of these places, known as "reputable and safe," should have "brace" games—games in which it was impossible for one to win, it is this that causes them to feel qualmish. Man yof the very nice people who frequent these resorts are indignant over losses which at the time they met with equanimity, because they thought they were robbed fairly. Now they join their demands with those of its non-gambling citizens that all the places of chance shall be closed. Open gambling, as a result of agitation, has been stopped certainly, but one who searches diligently will find no difficulty in running agaist a sti game in run-123456 ning against a stiff game here and there.

New York is exercised over water supply, possible transfer of police management to State officials and the outcome of the approaching municipal election. It is believed that the water system will remain as it is, but that Platt will force through his state constabulary scheme.

Success against Tammany might be assured if the opposition forces were united, a desideratum of their friends not likely to be consummated. Tammany has the antagonism of every daily in New York city; yet it is alert, active and more virile than ever. Its forces are organized solidly and will be likely to vote solidly. The opposition to it is divided into two irreconcilably opposed elements and Tammany may have two candidates opposed to it, in which case it will win an easy victory.

New York is tickled immensely over Andrew Carnegie's offer of $5,200,000 for sixty-five branch libraries for Greater New York. Wealthy citizens have offered sites for these buildings and when talking against trustsand trust men there is manifest disposition to exempt Carnegie from execration. Indeed many enthusiasts have urged his name as reformed candidate for mayor. This is scarely to be considered serious however, as Mr. Carnegiehas retired from business to find rest, a condition he could not hope to reach a smayor of this great city. There would be, too the risk of defeat—a contingency that could not be acceptable to the great ex-iron magnate and now generous multi-millionaire.

This city presents the spectacle of a gigantic undertaking being pushed according to terms of contract, with every prospect of being completed within the period fixed at the inception. This is the underground rapid transit system of railroad, which will extend from one end to the other of New York islands and will cost $50,000,000. All modern labor-saving appliances for excavating have been utilizedand the various sections of the district to be traversed are being pushed to completion. Each contractor vies with the other in effort to get through quickest. Within two years, it is promised, this great undertaking will be completed and then New York will have the greatest underground railroad upon earth.

Public Library Committee.

The following ladies and gentlemen will please meet in the reading rooms of the Southern Loan and Trust building on Wednesday, April 3, at 5 o'clock for the purpose of advising as to the best ways and means of establishing a free public library for Greensboro:

Mesdames J. S. Jones, E. E. Bain, H. L. Fry, J. W. Lindan, W. E. Stone C L. VanNoppen, G. W. Whitsett, Mamie Crawford, Miss Mary Petty, and Messrs. P. P. Claxton, A. M. Scales, G. S. Sergeant, J. A. Odell, J. M. Hendrix, J. S. Hunter, E. P. Wharton, Milton Shields, J. C. Murchison, W. J. Richardson, Thomas Glascock, J. W. Fry, and Chalmers McLean.

G. A. GRIMSLEY.

Death of Mrs. Mesley.

Mrs. R. D. Mesley, mother of Mr. J. M. Mesley, died at the home of the latter on North Gaston street, yesterday. She was in extreme age, and died from the effects of the grip. She was a consistent member of the Baptist church, and was esteemed by all who knew her. The funeral occurred at 11 o'clock this morning.

Citizen Nominates Mr. Wright.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

A citizen of First Ward would be very glad to see Mr. C. G. Wright elected mayor of Greensboro. Not because he has an axe to grind or for any favors done or expected by him, but because he thinks Mr. Wright would discharge the duties of that important office with hunor and credit to the city and himself just as has been done by Z. V. Taylor and who we much regret sees it to his interest to retire.

CITIZEN.

Not a Candidate.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

In your Saturday evening's issue of the Telegram, some friend was kind enough to suggest my name in connection with the candidacy for the honorable office of mayor of the city. I desire to say for the information of my friends that I have no ambition of this kind, am not a candidate and could not be induced to be.

SEARCHLIGHT GUARD

Electricity to Be Employed on Western Cattle Ranges.

Same Power Will Be Utilized in Executing Thieves When Captured Instead of Old Style Lynching.

Driven to desperation by the raids of "Black Jack" Kelley and the "Hole-in-the-Wall" gang of horse thieves and border ruffians, the ranchmen of Routt county, Col., have adopted a novel plan of protecting their herds of cattle, sheep and horses, says the Chicago American.

Not only do the ranchmen fear the raids of the ruffians, but the Indians from the Utah reservation have made things lively for them for months past.

The robbers are experts at their business. They know every canyon and gulch that seam the grazing grounds and are as expert in dodging pursuit as in changing the brands on live stock. So thorough have they become in their work that the choicest stock has been almost cleaned out for a radius of 50 miles, and no sooner is a choice bull brought in for breeding purposes than he mysteriously disappears as though dropped into a crater.

For months the ranchmen have had nightly patrols. Capt. W. S. Seavey, of the Thiel detective agency, has been at work on the matter, but the thieves are too clever to be caught by ordinary means. Tracking is almost an impossibility, for it has frequently been suspected that as soon as a horse is stolen he is fixed up with "mittens," padded shoes that are frequently changed so as to elude pursuers.

Early in the spring when the night riders were first put on the range it was thought the problem had been solved. But the trick only lasted long enough to give the robbers time to plan, for they set out pickets to watch the riders and then got into the circle and picked out the choicest steers and sleekest horses in the bunch.

During the summer there was a horse race at Craig in which a very valuable animal belonging to a ranchman living about ten miles from town was entered. The horse came from good stock, but looked seedy and rusty from two seasons on the range. The gamy animal won the most exciting race of the day by long odds and was a popular favorite among the cowboys and ranchmen.

For two years the horse had escaped the eyes of the robbers, or, possibly, looked too ragged to be of value. But that night she was stolen from the corral within a hundred yards of her owner's cabin. She was probably driven north into Wyoming and clipped, after which the brands were changed, the animal finally reaching the market thoroughly disguised.

A few days ago the annual round-up meeting was held near Craig, and the most important matter discussed was the reign of robbery that was ruling the ranches in Routt county. J. Dudley Morton, who has an interest in one of the large ranches in the vicinity, but whose home is in California, was present, and he suggested a plan that met with instant favor and has already gone through the preliminary stages.

On Big Beaver creek, just about the geographical center of the robber-invested community, is a waterfall of nearly 200 feet. The stream is never dry, winter or summer, and it is proposed to install a turbine wheel and dynamo and furnish currents for searchlights to be installed on watch towers on the four little hills that are within a mile or two of the falls.

The summits of these hills command unobstructed views of practically all the grazing land most tapped by the thieves, and it is proposed to keep the beams of dazzling light sweeping over the flocks all night to detect at once any commotion in the herds or the presence of unwelcome visitors. It has been shown that five men will supplant the 20 or 30 who now ride the range at night, and the cost will be practically nothing in comparison.

Saving 50 head of horses in two years will pay for the entire plant, and the security from theft of other animals will more than pay operating expenses, making the saving on the present range riders, at $35 a month and board, quite a respectable item. It is proposed to have one man at the generating station and another on each of the four towers. These in turn will be connected by telephone, which will also be extended to as many of the ranches as possible, so that, should anything suspicious occur even at the outer edge of the lighted area, some persons can be aroused to immediately investigate.

The men on the towers will, of course, be armed with the new long-distance rifles that will be effective at least for scaring purposes up to a mile. A few sticks of giant powder can be used for bombs to arouse the entire community in case of necessity, while the man at the generating station will have his pony saddled and bridled, ready to start out on the war-path as soon as needed.

When the robbers are caught it is proposed to electrocute them with the electric current instead of lynching them the old-fashioned way.

Still at It.

One Sunday the minister of a small northern country parish church had the misfortune to forget his sermon, and did not discover his loss till he reached the church, says a Glasgow correspondent. Suddenly an idea struck him. He sent for John, the beadle, and instructed him to give out the one hundred and nineteenth Psalm (containing 176 verses) while he hurried home for his sermon. On his journey back to church he saw the faithful beadle standing at the church door, waving his arms and urging him to hurry. On reaching the door he exclaimed: "Are they all singing yet, John?" "Aye, sir," replied John, "they're at it yet, but they're cheepin' like sparries."

Wished He Had Known It.

"Jack" Wilson, whose tomb is in the Little Cloisters at Westminster Abbey, was Shakespeare's tenor. He died at the age of 78 in 1673. The inscription on his tomb at the abbey was much obliterated, and under the direction of an antiquary a man was employed to recut the letters. The antiquary stood looking over him, so that he should make no mistake, and to make the time go pleasantly he dwelt at great length to the workman upon the grandeur and merits of the deceased. The man eventually stopped his work, and, looking up at the antiquary, said: "I wish, sir, that we had known that he was such a swell afore we run that there drain pipe through him!"

A NIGHT OF TERROR.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could live till morning" writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought that she must soon die from pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. Kings New Discovery, saying that it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of consumption. After three doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

NEW KING'S POWERS.

Restrictions Under Which Britain's Monarch Will Reign.

Curtailment of Royal Prerogative Effected by Parliament During the Reign of George III.—Limitations of Authority.

Considerable as are the powers of the new king, they are not unlimited. There are some very curious restrictions on the royal prerogative. The king cannot, for instance, communicate with his subjects as can the most menial of his servants; nor can he receive presents from his people save through officers of state or friends personally known to his majesty, says a London exchange.

The king could sell or give away the royal navy, but he could not spend a single farthing of public money without the consent of parliament. The king has no power over taxtion, and could not create any new office with fees attached to it. Neither could he annex new fees to old offices. He could not increase the wages of one of his footmen, unless he did it out of his private funds, or without exceeding the allowance by parliament.

A curious curtailment of the royal prerogative is effected by an act of parliament passed in the reign of George III. This act deals with Sabbath breaking, and in it it is distinctly stated that the monarch cannot pardon offenders who have been convicted of a certain form of Sabbath breaking. Yet his majesty could pardon 99 per cent. of all the prisoners in the land.

Though no act of parliament is complete until it has been signed by the king, his majesty is subject to the laws that he signs, and cannot issue a proclamation contrary to law. If, for instance, it were the law of England that no train should travel at a rate exceeding 50 miles an hour, the king could not issue a proclamation exempting a certain train from the operation of the law. Nor can his majesty issue a proclamation which would injure the community, such as, for example, a proclamation exempting a whole town or neighborhood from serving on a jury.

Though the king could recall any subject from abroad, he cannot compel a subject to leave Great Britain. This disability does not cease to operate even in time of war, and, though at such a time the king could call upon every able man to take up arms, he could not force a single civilian to leave the country, even to carry on a necessary war.

His majesty could not set up courts such as the star chamber, the child of Henry VII.'s misguided genius, nor could he invest a spiritual court with temporal power. Though his decision is absolute after a prisoner has been sentenced, he could not intervene with the course of justice before the sentence has been passed, nor could he exert any influence over the judges. Neither could he interfere in a case of private as opposed to public wrong.

The king is the only person who cannot arrest a suspected felon. No action can be taken against him for breaking the law, and therefore he is precluded from making an arrest, as, supposing the suspected prisoner were innocent, no action for false imprisonment could be taken against his majesty. The law, indeed, assumes that the king can do no wrong, which seems about as absurd as the legal assumption that the king cannot be under age and cannot die.

The king cannot exclude a member from parliament after he has been duly elected, nor can he delegate the duty of signing laws to anyone. His power of disposing of territory in time of peace has been disputed. In time of war his majesty could hand over London to France to bring the war to an end, but it seems clear that in time of peace his majesty cannot subject any part of the empire to the sway of a foreign power.

MONDAY, APRIL 1.

A NOTABLE BOOK.

A Fine Notice for a Work of Local Htstory.

Philadelphia Record.

Not one of all of Washington's generals deserves higher eulogy than Nathaniel Greene, the robust young Quaker of Rhode sland, whose youthful studies were so remarkable, and who rose to be one of Washington's most trusted friends. It was he who defended Washington before Congress during the dark days of the "Conway cabal;" it was he who aided in the retreat across New Jersey and helped to strike the unexpected blow upon the Hessians at Trenton; he judged Andre and succeeded Benedict Arnold at West Point, and when Gates proved useless in the South it was Greene who was sent to South Carolina by Washington and defeated the British in a campaign so brilliant as to have caused his fame as a soldier to be linked with that of Turenne and of Wellington. And Alexander Hamilton, in his panegyric, pronounced Greene to have been as great a statesman as he was general.

Cyrus Townsend Brady has fittingly emphasized in the prefatory note to his latest romance, "When Blades are Out and Love's Afield" (Lippincott), the deep interest of the character and career of this conspicuous Revolutionary actor, who also figures in the scenes of this historical fiction. Of this great Rhode Islander he exclaims:

Next to Washington, this "New England Blacksmith," who so highly educated himself that, for relaxation, he read the Latin Poets in the original by the lights of the camp fire, stands as the most brilliant soldier—strategist, tactician and fighter—of the Revolution. Indeed, he takes no mean place in the long roll by those who have, since and before his day, "set a squadron in the field," in the United States or in the world even, and his character was as great as his genius.

Mr. Brady's tale opens in the Tory-infested, soldier-overrun Carolinas just when the over-confident Tarleton had received his stunning repulse by Morgan and his Maryland men at Cowpens, and events pass quickly to the exciting events which followed that peculiar contest. But the tale itself, while full of military movement the clashing of sabres and the clattering of hoofs of the troopers in chase of each other, is, above all else, a curious romance of two intertangled courtships. A British lord, of Cornwallis' staff, is engaged to the daughter of a Tory Justice of South Carolina, whom he is to wed because of an old family alliance. That she is an heiress to broad acres also sways Sir Francis somewhat. But Isabel loves a young American patriot, and finally wins him after some thrilling and bloody episodes. Sir Francis finds, too, that his happiness lies in the love of Isabel's foster-sister, Sarah, who is worth more to him than all "the broad acres." The fight on the stairs, in which the two girls strive each to save the men they love, is a unique dramatic situation of love at cross-purposes, and the closing comedy of Sir Francis' surrender to Sarah and General Greene, both at the same time, is quite amusing.

Patriotic readers will be interested, furthermore, in the boys in buff and blue and the green-jacketed cavalrymen, who so gallantly drove the British out of the Carolinas. Several stirring chapters are devoted to the battle of Guilford Court House. Declares Mr. Brady: "Greene's combination of his force and Morgan's in the face of Cornwallis' efforts to prevent the junction, and his subsquent retreat from the Catawba to the Dan, had been one of the most masterly achievements in military science that the world had seen. The 'ten thousand' had not made a more famous march. Greene had been pursued by the indefatigable Earl with a desperation and determination that would have won success from almost any other commander who ever lived."

This is eulogy to the extreme, however. Mr. Brady bestows high praise also upon the First Maryland Regiment as being "the very flower of the Continental army." It "had shown its mettle in almost every battle in the Revolution from Long Island to the Cowpens.'"

AN HONEST MEDICINE FOR LA GRIPPE.

George W. Wait, of South Gardiner, Me., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit to the vendor. Chamberlain's Cough remedy is theonly thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one bottle of it and the chills, cold and grip have all left me. I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medeicine." For sale by A. E. Holton's drug store.

Like Oliver Twist, children ask for more when given One Minute Cough Cure. Mothers endorse it highly for croup. It quickly cures all coughs and colds and every throat and lung trouble. It is a specific for grippe and asthama and has long been a well known remedy for whooping cough. Howard Gardner.

WORKING NIGHT AND DAY.

The busiest and mightiest littlething that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar-coated globule of health, that changed weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain-fag into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25 cents per box. Sold by C. E. Holton.

The stomach controls the situation. Those who are hearty and strong are those who can eat and digest plenty of food. Kodol Dyspepsia C ure digests what you eat and allows you to eat all the good food you want. If you suffer from indigestion, heartburn, belching or any other stomach trouble, this preparation can't help but do you good. The most sensitive stomachs can take it. Howard Gardner.

CATARRH

Catarrh has become such a common disease that a person entirely free from this disgusting complaint is seldom met with. It is customary to speak of Catarrh as nothing more serious than a bad cold, a simple inflammation of the nose and throat. It is, in fact, a complicated and very dangerous disease; if not at first, it very soon becomes so.

The blood is quickly contaminated by the foul secretions, and the poison through the general circulation is carried to all parts of the system.

Salves, washes and sprays are unsatisfactory and disappointing, because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. does. It cleanses the blood of the poison and eliminates from the system all catarrhal secretions, and thus cures thoroughly and permanently the worst cases.

Mr. P. H. McAllister, of Harrodsburg, Ky., writes: "Having been a terrible sufferer from Catarrh, and being now sound and well, the question often put to me is, 'What cured you?' In answer I feel it my duty to state that Swift's Specific is the medicine. I am such a true believer in the efficacy of Swift's Specific that I can honestly and conscientiously recommend it to any one suffering from Catarrh. Have recommended it to many, and am happy to say that those whom I have induced to use it can bear me out in the statement that it will cure any case of Catarrh if taken according to directions."

SSS is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the greatest of all blood medicines and tonics.

If you have Catarrh don't wait until it becomes deep-seated and chronic, but begin at once the use of S. S. S., and send for our book on blood and skin diseases, and write our physicians about your case.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poi sons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at C. E. Holton's drug store. Fvery bottle guaranteed.

MILLIONS GIVEN AWAY.

It is certainly gratifying t the pub lic to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine, and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs are surely cured by it. Call on C. E. Holton, druggist, and get a trial bottle free, Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or prize returned.

Headache often results from a d.s ordered condition of the stomach and constipation of the bowels. A dose or two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will correct these disorders and cure the headache. Sold by C. E. Holton.

REMARKABLE CURES OF RHEUMATISM.

Vindicator, Rutherfordton, N. C.

The editor of the Vindicator has had occasion to test the efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice with the most remarkable results in each case. First, with rheumatism in the shoulder from which he suffered excruciating pain for ten days, which was relieved with two applications of Pain Balm, rubbing the parts afflicted and realizing instnat benefit and entire relief in a very short time. Second, in rheumatismin thigh joint, almost prostrating him with severe pain, which was relieved by two applications, rubbing with the liniment on retiring at night, and geting up free from pain. AN ANCIENT BELIEF

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of siatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the affliction is demoniac enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

Three recruits were sent from the recruiting station here yesterday. Three more enlisted this morning.

Mrs. Selpha Hollowell, mother of Mr. R. L. Hollowell, is dangerously sick at the home of the latter on Spring Garden street.

An article on the first page of this paper last Saturday refering in a complimentary way to Prof. Claxton, should have been credited to the Charlotte Observer.

Mrs. Lola Morton, who has been on a visit to friends in Jacksonville, Fla., returned Saturday, spent the night with her mother, Mrs. W. R. Moore, and went to Selma yesterday.

Every member of the Young People's Union of Washington Street Baptist church is earnestly requested to be present this evening as the matter of electing the next president comes up.

Policemen Barnes and Jordan this morning arrested a young white man named George Young, on a warrant charging a n assault with a razor in a boaring house on South Elm yesterday.

The county commissioners are in session today. Only routine business is being transacted. The board will be in session tomorrow and hear the matter of the sanitary condition along Buffalo Creek.

A large masure of the success of the District Christian Endeavor Convention is due to the untiring efforts and wise planning of Mrs. C. P. Petty, State Secretary, and Rev. T. M. Johnson, District Superintendent.

Mr. H. G. Reinicker, who has been at Odell's for seven months, will, next week, begin traveling, representing hardware manufacturers direct to the jobbing trade. He will be in Greensboro five or six times a year, and will have his headquarters in Baltimore, where he will reside.

The two lectures in the First Presbyterian church yesterday by Rev. Samuel Phillips Verner, a returned missionary of the Southern Presbyterian church in the Congo region of Africa, were exceedingly instructive and interesting. RHEUMATISM | CATARRH — DISEASES CURED BY B. B. B.

It is the deep-seated, obstinate cases of catarrh and rheumatism that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) cures. It matters not what other treatments doctors, sprays, liniments, medicated air blood purifiers, have failed to do, B. B. B. always promptly reaches the real cause and roots out and drives from the bones, joints, mucuous membrane, and entire system the specific poison in the blood that causes rheumatism and catarrh. B. B. B. is the only remedy strong enough to do this and cure and so there can never be a return to the symptoms. Don't give up hope, but try B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) or 3 Bs.

For sale by druggists and Howard Gardner, in Greensboro, at $1 per large bottle, or 6 large bottles (full treatment) $5. To prove our faith in B. B. B. we will send a trial bottle free to sufferers, so they may test the remedy at our expense. Address Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga.

WINE OF CARDUI

HEALTHY OLD AGE.

LABUE, BENTON CO. ARK., Aug. 4.
I am 49 years old and have been suffering with Change of Life. I had flooding spells so bad that none thought I could live. My husband got me Wine of Cardui and it saved my life. I am like another person since taking it.
MRS. E. B. TOWNSEND.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

It is the devout wish of nearly all people to live to a ripe old age. None of us want to die young. This universal desire can be realized if care be taken of the health in early and middle life. A little precaution then will add many years to our existence. Death can be kept away a long time. Happy, healthy old age will be the lot of the woman who promptly corrects the ailments which afflict her sex. In youth, Wine of Cardui will take the female child safely over the dividing line between girlhood and womanhood. As a wife she needs it to help her through the trials of pregnancy and childbirth with as little discomfort as possible. At the Change of Life it will help her over the dangerous place that appears in her pathway between 40 and 50. Then will come many years of truly blissful existence. She will grow old slowly and gracefully. To the last she will preserve that charm and beauty which are always characteristic of perfectly healthy grandmothers. It is for women alone to decide whether they will be healthy or sick. The remedy for their sickness is close at hand.

Making a Man.

Once boys grew up at a rational rate;
Now we develop a man while you wait.
Hurry the baby as fast as you can;
Hurry him, worry him, make him a man,
Off with his baby clothes, get him in pants;
Feed him on brain food and make him advance.
Hustle him as soon as he's able to walk
Into a grammar school; cram him with talk,
Fill his poor head full of figures and facts,
Keep on a jamming them in till it cracks.
Rush him through college, compel him to grab
Of every known subject a dip and a dab.
Get him in business and after the cash
All by the time he can grow a mustache,
Let him forget he was ever a boy;
Make gold his god and its jingle his joy.
Keep him a hustling and clear out of breath
Until he wins—nervous prostration and death.

C. E. MEETING

At Grace Methodist Protestant Church.

The Greensboro District Christian Endeavor convention met Saturday at 3 p. m., at Grace M. P. Church. The decorations of the church were artistic and suggestive of what real Christian Endeavor stands for. The song service, led by Prof. Smith, of Elon College, was bright and uplifting. The "quiet hour" meditation given by Rev. Joseph Peele was deeply spiritual. The roll call of societies was interesting and showed good delegations.

A "Conventional Circle" was next conducted by Prof. Smith; this was very helpful in regard to practice work. The "Social Hour" which followed this was a time of hearty greeting among the delegates.

The devotions of the evening service were led by Rev. H. K. Boyer. A very interesting feature of this session was the reading of two essays by a Junior boy and girl respectively on "What Kind of Meeting I Like. Another essay was read by a bright boy on "Why I Joined the Junior Society." The address following this by Prof. S. M. Smith, State Superintendent of of Junior work, was a most excellent plea for the boys and girls.

The consecration service was a most blessed season. Mrs. Mary C. Woody gave a beautiful lesson from Eph. 3: 14-21. This was followed by a short season of testimony and prayer. The Junior hour was from 3 to 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Those "blessed Juniors" from Elon and Burlington having a prayer meeting of their very own with the cooperation of their bright Superintendant, Miss Una Davis, was an earnest of what they would be in maturer years.

The Junior Lesson, following this, conducted by Mrs. Charles W. Petty, was both instructive and entertaining.

The address "In Distant Lands" was a thrilling appeal for missions, by Mrs. W. W. Mendenhall. She demonstrated that our motto should be "Christ for the World and the World for Christ."

The Sunday evening service was a real feast. The address by Prof. P. P. Claxton on "Bible Reading" was scholarly and deeply interesting. His allusions to the history, poetry and prophecy of the Old Testament were masterful. One of the best thoughts in regard to the New Testement was that we study it not so much to find in it the docterine of any church as to read the story of Christ's life—read until we see Him in it all.

The presence of Rev. A. D. Thaler at this concluding session was a benediction. His hearty invitation for as many as possible to attend the State C. E. Convention to be held at Winston April 25 and 28, formed the prelude to his address. The latter was most helpful and inspiring to all present. Such questions as "Is the Bible an open Book to you?" "Has Christian Endeavor made you a more effective worker?" were appropriately asked.

The convention was marked by a reverent and deeply spiritual atmosphere throughout; the song service helped to increase enthusiasm. The solos that were rendered by Mr. Rudolph Eley, of Elon, and by Miss Mary Weatherly, of Greensboro, were much appreciated.

A vote of thanks for Greensboro's hospitality having been given by visiting delegates, the Mizpah benediction was repeated, and the District Convention came to a close.
